Dumbing down maternity fears

By BEN MIDDLETON

ben@indlenews.co.uk

CAMPAIGNERS from Honiton who are fighting proposed NHS Devon changes to the maternity unit at Honiton Community Hospital gathered outside Devon County Council headquarters in Exeter on Thursday as a meeting of the Devon health scrutiny committee was taking place inside.

The meeting discussed the development of future midwifery services by NHS Devon and presentations were made by Jenny McNeill, assistant director of strategic development for NHS Devon, Tracey Reeves, head of midwifery and deputy director of nursing for the Royal Devon and Exeter Foundation Trust and Val Beale, local supervising authority midwifery officer for NHS South West.

Dozens of parents and parents-to-be attended the meeting and a small protest took place outside before official proceedings started. Campaigners also handed over a dossier to county councillors. The six page dossier contains the views and concerns of local people.

As the meeting progressed scrutiny councillors expressed concerns over NHS Devon plans to end overnight stays at Honiton maternity unit.

Tania Needham, branch co-ordinator of the Exeter and East Devon National Childbirth Trust and a member of the campaign group, said she was pleased with how the meeting went.

Speaking to Pulman's View she said: "It is vital that mums in the future should be able to enjoy the high quality service enjoyed by mums in the past. Efforts should be made to achieve the high standards available at Honiton — especially with regard to breast-feeding rates — throughout the rest of Devon.

"What I fear in the NHS Devon proposals is a dumbing down at Honiton, Okehampton and Tiverton and a reduction in breast-feeding rates at those hospitals.

"That and reducing choice for our mums, would be unacceptable. I am delighted that the health scrutiny committee members recognised that. NHS Devon must take that message on board."

A spokesman for NHS Devon said: "NHS Devon today (Thursday) published detailed proposals to change the way community maternity services are organised in parts of the county.

"The proposals, which aim to improve maternity services in mid, east and west Devon, were discussed at Devon County Council's health overview and scrutiny committee.

"It is the first time health chiefs have revealed the proposals in full and signals the beginning of a three-month public discussion of the plans.

"Last year about 370 babies were born at community hospitals in Tiverton, Honiton and Okehampton. A total of 65 women gave birth at home and NHS chiefs want to increase this number.

"Under the proposals, women would return home the same day after normal deliveries. But there would be a greater emphasis on increasing deliveries at local community hospitals and in women's homes, and more support for breastfeeding.

"The proposals would reduce midwives' caseloads so that they have more time to spend with mothers, particularly those who are vulnerable."

As revealed in the Pulman's View, NHS Devon has confirmed that it will be attending a public meeting in Honiton on Saturday, June 26th, to discuss the future of the town's maternity unit.

The public meeting will be held at the Royal British Legion Hall, Dowell Street, from 10.30am.

Council seat needs filling

HONITON Town Council is on the search for a new town councillor following the recent resignation of Jeff Ayres.

A spokesman for the town council said: "Following the recent resignation of Jeff Ayres, Honiton Town Council is taking the steps to elect a replacement town councillor. So, if you want to do something positive and hope to make a difference by influencing decisions that affect Honiton, maybe you should think about putting yourself forward."

Anyone interested in serving on the council must be over 18, a British citizen and living or working within a three mile radius of Honiton.

Application forms are available from the town council offices on New Street. Forms can also be picked up from East Devon District Council headquarters in Sidmouth.

MP elevated to lady title

FORMER Tiverton and Honiton Conservative MP Angela Browning is to be elevated to the House of Lords.

After serving the constituency for more than 18 years at Westminster, the former agriculture minister stepped down ahead of the recent parliamentary elections. She was succeeded by Conservative MP Neil Parish.

Mrs Browning is now going to be made a Conservative peer and will become Lady Browning, although her full title is still being agreed.

Crew called to van blaze

FIREFIGHTERS from Honiton were called to reports of a van fire in Luppitt on Sunday, May 30th.

The incident happened just before 10.30pm in the Luppitt Common Road area of the village.

On arrival at the scene, crews confirmed that a van was well alight in a field and used two breathing apparatus wearers and one hose reel jet to extinguish the flames.

The cause of the blaze is believed to be deliberate.

History group plans rail celebration day

FENITON History Group is planning to celebrate 150 years of railway traffic through the village — and members would like to hear from people who can remember certain things.

Celebrations are planned for Sunday, July 18th from 10am-5.30pm.

Chris Gibbins, of the history group, said: "Feniton History Group is putting together an exhibition of photos, memories, local and family history in the chapel."

"We would love to hear from anyone who has recollections of Sidmouth Junction, as it was known, along with the Nog Inn, formerly known as the Railway Hotel.

"On the day, alongside the displays, there will be a DVD and video of the station, light refreshments and a room raffle."

"This will be a poignant day as this will be the last event to be held in the chapel as it is to be sold on the open market."

"The day will close with a service taken by Reverend Danny Beavan."

Any monies raised on the day will be shared equally between Reverend Beavan's Baptist work in the village and The Friends of St. Andrew's Church.

Those with memories to share can contact Chris on 01404 850713 or e-mail cmgibbins@tiscali.co.uk.

Boost to farmers in MP maiden speech

PARISH HIGHLIGHTS LOCAL MATTERS CLOSE TO HIS HEART IN FIRST SPEECH IN COMMONS

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

THE new Tory MP for the Tiverton and Honiton constituency, Neil Parish, has delivered his first speech since being elected to the House of Commons.

Mr Parish is a former member of the European Parliament and was elected as MP for the Tiverton and Honiton constituency after Angela Browning stepped down from the role before the May 6th general election.

At the general election Mr Parish secured his seat with a 9,300 cushion and amassed 27,614 votes.

Speaking during the Department of the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs debate Mr Parish thanked his predecessor, Mrs Browning, and paid tribute to his wife, Sue.

He said: "It is a great pleasure to have the duty of thanking Angela Browning, retiring member for Tiverton and Honiton. I can say with great genuine affection that she was a great supporter and a great help.

"My wife, Sue, has put up with me for almost 30 years, but I also thank her for helping me through my political career, and I hope that will continue."

He also highlighted causes that are close to his heart and raised issues that affect his constituency.

Speaking about Seaton and the proposed Tesco development he said: "It [Seaton] is now a beautiful seaside town, but it suffers from having a proposed Tesco supermarket on its outskirts.

"We are rather fearful that it [Tesco] may dominate too much of Seaton and destroy some of our local shops."

Mr Parish also highlighted Axminster in his speech and said: "As we walk around the corridors of this house, we think of Axminster and its famous carpets, because many carpets in this house were manufactured there. In fact, replacement new carpets for the house are still manufactured in the town, and I have seen them being made."

And, in what could be viewed as a boost to local farmers, Mr Parish added: "My view is that the rising world population means that we need food in areas where we can produce it.

"In Devon, we have the rolling hills, the beautiful water and the right climate to grow excellent grass and produce good milk, good beef and good lamb.

"We should make sure that the whole country eats, not just Devon."

Parents put on a picnic to fundraise for hospital

A HUSBAND and wife, whose twins needed specialist care for almost a month, are to stage a fundraiser for the hospital department which helped them.

Tim and Julie Rich are the proud parents of twins Katie and Ellie.

But the girls started life in dramatic fashion and Julie said: "They surprised us by arriving seven weeks early last August, weighing 3lb 14oz and 3lb 15oz — and spent 24 days in the Neonatal Unit at the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital.

"We will always be eternally grateful for the excellent care provided. It is truly a wonderful service especially at a very worrying and emotional time."

As a way of saying thank you to the hospital and staff, they will stage a fundraising picnic at their Yarrowcombe farm on Sunday, June 13th.

The event starts at 12noon and will include a tractor and trailer ride, face painting, a cow pat competition, buggy rides, farm animals to watch and much more.

Julie said: "All donations will go towards the Royal Devon and Exeter Neonatal Unit.

"Everyone is welcome, bring along your family, friends and your favourite teddy bear as well.

"It is easy to find in our field opposite Hilltop Services on the A30 Yarrowcombe, (EX14 9EB).

"We hope the weather will be kind to us and hope to see you all there."

Perfect conditions for country event

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

BANK Holiday Monday dawned bright and clear, making conditions perfect for this year's well-documented Colyton Vintage Tractor Run, according to event secretary

Ann Veit.

The run was fully subscribed with 120 tractors registered, and Arthur Parsons led them out on the dot at 10.30am on Monday, May 31st.

Ann praised route master Ken Clifford, saying he had "certainly excelled himself this year".

Drivers were presented with commemorative medals by main sponsor Chris Way and Ann.

Ann concluded: "The organisers would like to thank everyone who helped including Tony Kiff and his excellent team of volunteer marshals, the people of Colyton and those along the route who contributed so generously to the collection and everyone who assembled in the field afterwards."

The beneficiary of monies raised from this year's tractor run is Devon Air Ambulance Trust and the total amount will be announced when all the accounting is complete.

◆ BRITAIN'S Got Talent winners Spelbound of which Douglas Fordyce is a member

LOCAL GYM MAN IS BGT SPELBOUND TEAMMATE

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

AN acrobatic gymnast, who started his career in Honiton 15 years ago, was rewarded for all his hard work when winning Britain's Got Talent last Saturday.

Douglas Fordyce, who lived in Wilmington until three months ago, was part of the triumphant Spelbound team that enthralled the nation.

His immediate reward for winning was a hug from his mum in the studio, but doors of opportunity undoubtedly opened for him and fellow team members on Saturday.

Everyone in the team are elite acrobatic gymnasts and members of a gymnastics club in Ashford, Middlesex. Douglas, 20, started his career at Honiton Gymnastics Club at the age of five.

He has been on the podium at world championships but Saturday's Spelbound win was probably his biggest achievement so far, most certainly from a publicity point of view.

The Spelbound team attended a press conference with Simon Cowell on Sunday and also visited the BAFTA Awards on Sunday.

Members were then whisked off to GMTV studios at 5am on Monday morning — and it has been an endless list of engagements in a very short time.

Douglas mother, Margaret, said the gymnasts formed Spelbound to raise awareness of their sport, being disappointed that acrobatic gymnastics will not feature on the Olympic programme in London in 2012.

Margaret was in the studio last Saturday and the first thing Douglas said to her after the result was announced was: "I just need a hug."

Margaret was happy to comply and told Pulman's View: "They all went for their mums. He grabbed hold of me and was very emotional."

The family moved from Wilmington to the Taunton area three months ago.

Margaret was back at work as a teacher on Monday morning, and said during a break: "I'm just overwhelmed. Oh gosh, it's just been unbelievable."

Competition is tough for show riders

AXE Vale Pony Club held its annual show on Bank Holiday Monday at Stafford Cross and, after a wet and cloudy weekend, organisers were thrilled when the sun lit up the showground that morning.

The first horseboxes made their way into the field at about 8.30am for a 9.30am start, and the entries came flooding in.

There were so many entries that organisers had to fashion entry numbers using card and a permanent marker. Ponies and horses of all shapes, sizes and colours arrived to enter a variation of classes from show jumping to Pony with the Fluffiest Tail.

Everything ran smoothly and there were lots of happy smiling faces at this family-minded event.

Axe Vale Pony Club members took their ponies home for a well-earned rest before their weekend on Exmoor starting Thursday, June 3rd.

Championship results: Burroughs Working Hunter Championship for the highest placed Axe Vale member — Charlotte Paley (Lanner).

Open Working Hunter Championship — Champion: Kate Sopworth (Wincy Jack); Reserve: Charlotte Paley (Lanner).

Ridden Hunter Championship — Champion: Brian Paine (Galway Silver Pride); Reserve: Olivia Morgan (The Banker).

Misty Cup for the highest placed Axe Vale member in showing classes — Sara Wright (Asterix).

Open Showing Championship — Olivia Morgan (The Banker).

Coloured Horse Championship — Susan Harris (Alfie).

In the reporter's shoes

Written by reporter

ANDERS LARSSON

No churnalism

THERE is a relatively new word within the newspaper industry called churnalism.

It describes a situation of staffing levels cut to the bone and reporters, chained to a desk, churning out stories based on press releases.

I'm sure it is true in some cases, and we do make use of press releases at Pulman's View.

But we also try to get out and about as often as possible. A case in point is my recent sortie to Sidmouth.

Half a day at the seaside in June doesn't sound bad, but I hadn't been despatched to pen an article on this year's swimwear fashion among female Baywatch wannabees.

Instead I had been sent to cover the meeting of East Devon District Council's (EDDC) Development Management Committee meeting, which was to decide on applications relating to the gypsy caravan site at Hawkchurch.

This is a controversial issue, which was confirmed by the presence of a television van outside council headquarters.

There were two applications in total: one to remove planning conditions to allow year-round occupation of some existing pitches; and one for permission to construct five new transit pitches and associated features.

Planners had recommended approval for both, but their department had received 78 letters of objection to the first proposal and 99 to the second one.

The 90-minute-plus debate was reminiscent of a criminal trial, the planning team acting as the defence of the applications, and the numerous objectors as the prosecution.

Members of the Development Management Committee played the role of the jury and delivered overwhelming majority verdicts in favour of both applications.

As soon as committee members started to debate, it became obvious that most were in favour of the applications.

I couldn't help but get a feeling that the applications would have been backed even if the on-site installation and operation of a leaking, second-hand Ukrainian nuclear reactor had been included.

What seems to have upset many objectors is that the applicants had breached a seasonal-use only condition for some pitches with impunity.

Instead of receiving a letter threatening robust enforcement action, the applicants had been invited to a meeting with EDDC to discuss site expansions and the preparation of an application to get rid of the seasonal-use only condition.

These talks also led to EDDC applying for a grant of almost £800,000 towards the proposed transit site through the Homes and Communities Agency.

The intention was that EDDC would take a lease on the land for the transit site and be in control of things like management and lettings policy, thereby preventing planning condition breaches.

District councillor John Jeffery is not a member of the Development Management Committee, but spoke in his capacity as ward member.

Councillor Jeffery doesn't do jargon and you are unlikely to hear words like "stakeholders", "partnership working", "sustainability" and such when he speaks.

He went straight to the point and said the applicants as well as EDDC had failed to adhere to the attached conditions, the latter by not acting when concerns about planning breaches had been raised.

He finished off by saying he was unable to support any further expansion of the site.

It was explained to him that some breaches had been addressed, and the one relating to seasonal use was dealt with through the application put before the committee.

As I've already said, both applications were successful — but there has been a twist since.

The Homes and Communities Agency grants scheme has been scrapped by the coalition government, which means EDDC won't manage the new transit site after all.

An EDDC spokesperson said: "Conditions relating to the management of the site imposed with the planning consent will be carefully monitored."

It remains to be seen if the objectors find that promise reassuring or not.

Transition bid

A PROSPECTIVE east Devon MP is attempting to set up a transition group in her local village.

Sharon Pavey, the Green Party candidate, of Upottery, is interested in hearing from anyone who would like to start a transition group in Upottery and the surrounding area.

She said: "All of our communities are facing rising pressures due to the challenges of fossil fuel depletion and global warming. There are however, community-led responses, exciting transition initiatives, happening all over the world, and the parish of Upottery could be next.

"Transition is the process we have to embark on to shift our communities away from our current high CO2 emitting and fossil fuel addicted ways of living and being. It starts with a small initial group within a community, then builds into a broad coalition of people within the area."

Anyone interested in learning more should contact Sharon on sdpavey@googlemail.com or 07740 973990.

Farm family Bonds with iced venture

A FAMILY business on the outskirts of Honiton will be hoping for a heatwave more than most people this summer.

The Bond family are based at Aplin Farm, Monkton and have just branched out from traditional farming methods — now creating luxury handmade ice cream, sorbets and frozen yogurts.

Gill Bond said: "The whole project started just over a year ago when we went to Italy for the World Ice Cream Show. I guess that is when the idea that we could make and sell our own ice cream first came into our heads and we gathered a lot of information from the show.

"From there we started the business in January this year and we have been selling to the public now since April."

The company, which has been trading for a little over three months, has named themselves Otter Valley Dairy. They tested their products at this year's Devon County Show where they received some very positive feedback from customers and county show judges - their ice cream scooped first prize in the fruit flavour category.

Gill added: "The county show went really well for us and we got a lot of follow up business from it which is always good. Our products are out in a few shops and we have our own stall

The farm can be found on the A30 heading through Monkton. Free parking is provided and there is also an area to sit and enjoy an ice cream, sorbet or frozen yogurt whilst taking in the stunning views that surround the farm. The ice cream stall is open Tuesday to Sunday from 12noon until 6pm.

Rebecca Bond said: "I guess what makes our products unique is that we are surrounded by the beautiful countryside, all our ingredients are local and all our products are hand-made on the family farm.

"We use the highest quality ingredients. The milk in our ice cream comes from our own cows here on the farm and obviously we know what all our cows are eating so that gives us much more control over our ice cream, sorbets and frozen yogurts."

Jessica added: "Our products really do go from cow to cone in just a few hours."

After their success at the Devon County Show the family are now planning to show their products at Honiton Show, the North Devon Show and the Mid Devon Show.

Gill added: "There has been a lot of support from the locals already and people have been getting behind us which is really great."

Derelict site owner praises chamber and EDDC team

THE owner of a derelict Axminster building has praised East Devon District Council and Axminster Chamber of Commerce for assistance given.

Neal Hiscocks of Plymouth-based 3C Development Group also said that once an "anchor tenant" has been found, progress will be swift at the Webster's building.

But finding an anchor tenant could take some time as there are several factors involved.

One of these factors is land surrounding the building.

Mr Hiscocks said there have been regular talks with Webster's neighbour, Royal Mail, but no tangible result so far.

Mr Hiscocks summed up the current situation by telling Pulman's View: "On the progress front we have a number of ideas on how the site might eventually look but we've not yet formally put pen to paper.

"Timing of the development is influenced by so many factors other than the general economy including the projected future levels of population/housing growth for the town and the prospects of a buyer being found for The George Hotel to name just two.

"Once we have secured an anchor tenant around whom we can provide a range of retail units and residential properties progress will be swift.

"I must stress that the support from EDDC and the local chamber of commerce has been greatly appreciated and with the continued assistance will help make the proposed scheme a success."

Resolutions and how to top a scone

THE May meeting of Colyton WI was chaired by vice-president Joan Garner.

A report from president Brenda Clark on the meeting of the Devon Federation of Women's Institutes was read.

She reported that the proposal that all sick badgers should be culled to prevent suffering and the spread of disease was approved unanimously. Colyton WI had come to the same conclusions at its April meeting.

Colyton WI was then asked to vote on a resolution to go to the annual meeting of the National Federation of Women's Institutes that all poultry, meat and fish products should be clearly labelled to show the country of origin. Colyton voted unanimously in favour of the resolution.

A lighter side of the meeting was having members responding to a challenge to disclose events in their life.

Members heard of the experience of cooking for the Duchess of Argyll; of climbing Table Mountain despite the presence of puff adders; of attending a Highland Ball and protesting against racial discrimination in Sri Lanka during the war.

Members ate a delicious cream tea with much discussion as to whether they should put cream first topped with jam on the scones, or should it be the other way round?

The scones had been entered in the competition for the best plate of six scones. They had been judged by Joan Lonsborough, an excellent scone maker. The winning plate of scones was won by Margaret Martin. A competition for 'flowers from my garden' was won by Sue Kightley.

Tony tells some flying tales of 'fallen angels'

WITH the title of Fallen Angels, the imagination of members of Axminster Probus Club was running wild until it became apparent that the subject dealt with planes of the pre-war era!

Member Tony Hansell had grown up on the banks of the Itchen in Southampton. It was in that area where many of the early plane manufacturers had been based and had led to his enthusiasm for the subject. These were still the early days of design and not all aircraft had unblemished records — hence the title.

The Princess flying boats were built there but were under-engined though they did have service with the RAF and carried private passengers between 1935 and 1939.

On flights to South Africa, eight refuelling stops were necessary so they were not wildly practical.

The Short Singapore was the precursor to these machines. It had a top speed of 145 mph which made for extended journey times. One of them crashed near Messina in Sicily in 1935 on a proving flight with the loss of all on board.

The Fairy Swordfish, built at Hamble, was an anachronism. A biplane affectionately known as a stringbag it nevertheless did sterling service during the war when it succeeded in crippling the Bismarck. It was equipped to carry torpedoes but was later converted to depth charges.

The Supermarine Spitfire was also built in the region and its success needs no emphasis.

Dealing with the civilian side of aviation Tony said that Imperial Airways flew out of Croydon. Its aircraft seated 12 people and three-course meals were served round a table! Only the rich could afford to fly and a newspaper reported in 1934 that almost 100 people had flown to Le Touquet in two days — a record.

Alan Cobham had established his flying circus but his aircraft only carried two passengers. This led to Tony's mother-in-law riding outside on the rear fuselage. Health and safety would have something to say about that now!

Tony finished with the strange tale of two young women who had boarded a small plane for a flight to distant parts.

On landing the pilot was horrified to discover that the compartment was empty and was left with serious doubts on how to file his flight report. It turned out that they had jumped from the plane in a suicide pact — as evidenced by the note they left for their mother. They were fallen but were they angels?

A busy time for Jurassic music group

WHAT a busy time Jurassic Folk and Acoustic have had in the last couple of weeks, three different occasions and venues making for an exciting period.

First the usual monthly session at the Grove, Seaton, was well supported by both performers and audience, and some lively performances from resident singers and poets made a great evening.

Then on the following Saturday was A Big Night Out in Beer organised by Jurassic members Ted Dowse and Frances Lee.

Held at the Dolphin Hotel, they had assembled a packed programme of well-loved local talent such as Mike Green as well as Jurassic stalwarts, and headlined national and international singer and guitarist, Paul Downes. Everyone gave their services free and enabled Frances and Ted to raise £690 for that very worthwhile and much-in-the-news charity, Shelterbox.

Finally, the group was invited to perform at Seaton Town Hall as part of Seaton Art Festival, where members serenaded all the busy stall holders and visitors.

Annie Bennett had assembled one of the ad-hoc bands consisting of Mike Green, Rob Wheaton, Ted Dowse and Peter Arnold on string bass, and Frances Lee also contributed with a couple of her humorous poems.

It must have gone down pretty well because they got several people coming up and asking about booking them... and they haven't even got a name!

Society presidents' critique

ON Wednesday afternoon, May 19th, Axminster Art Society met at Musbury Village Hall for the presidents' critique.

For this meeting members had been invited to submit their paintings to be assessed by the joint-presidents, Wendy and Howard Jones.

Twenty pictures were submitted for appraisal and the presidents took considerable trouble to view each one and give detailed constructive criticism. Even for those members who had not submitted pictures the comments were very interesting and gave everyone thoughtful ideas about how to paint in the future.

Dealing with landscapes, Howard encouraged members to make a point where possible of including figures in our pictures. He also encouraged them to sketch figures at every opportunity.

He emphasised the importance of planning pictures before actually starting to paint.

The audience enjoyed the critique and everyone left with some useful ideas.

The society's next demonstration will take place on Wednesday afternoon, June 16th at Musbury Village Hall, commencing at 2.15pm when Jake Winkle will be addressing the subject of Skies in Watercolour. Visitors (£4) are always welcome at our demonstrations. For further information about demonstrations and workshops please contact Rita on 01297 442266. Please do visit the summer exhibition at the Axe Vale Festival of Gardening and Crafts on June 26th-27th. The society had over 1,200 visitors last year and would like to beat this record!

Walk This Way, volunteers say

By ANDERS LARSSON
anderson@findlenews.co.uk

A WALKING scheme for all ages and abilities has gained Natural England accreditation in recognition of its high standard of guided health walks.

What is now Leisure East Devon introduced the Walk This Way scheme in 2001, and currently offers four health walks per week in the Exmouth, Axe Valley and Sid Valley

To celebrate the accreditation and to thank the volunteers who give up their time to help others stay fit and active, a combined celebration involving lunch and a walk was held in Colaton Raleigh on Monday, May 24th.

A band of 30 walkers from the Exmouth, Sidmouth and Axminster groups, including volunteer leaders, managers and Leisure East Devon staff, enjoyed a walk along the River Otter, followed by lunch.

Special thanks was paid to volunteer walk managers Jackie Dadds (Axminster), Brian Webber (Exmouth) and Lauren Dunlop Humphrey (Sidmouth), who have all undergone national Walking the Way to Health training, as well as training in first aid and resuscitation.

People of all ages and abilities are welcome and anyone interested should contact walk manager Andrew Dare on 01404 814317, or email ottersportscentre@ledleisure.co.uk.

A star of art show

A HONITON art student was one of the stars of the show at the Somerset College graduating university students' art show, held recently.

More than 200 people attended the private function at the Tithe Barn, Pilton, near Glastonbury, and Emily Horman, of Feniton, was one of the students whose work was on display.

Special guest Michael Eavis, Glastonbury festival organiser, cut the ribbon and officially opened the exhibition.

Rachel Davies, principal of Somerset College, said: "The students and staff organised an excellent show to profile their talents and the venue was spectacular."

◆ PUPILS at Dalwood Primary School held their annual maypole dancing display in the centre of the village recently, helping to keep the country traditions at their school. They performed three maypole dances, the Spiders Web, Barbers Pole and Plaiting. Acting head-teacher Jane Sims said: "It is wonderful that pupils can experience the tradition of maypole dancing in the knowledge that these dances can be passed on to future generations". Above, the Green Man, Brian Major, leads the pupils out to begin the dance. Inset, pupils perform the Spiders Web maypole dance

Summer drink-drive campaign is launched

MOTORISTS across Pulman's Country are being urged to leave their keys behind this summer if they are planning to have a drink.

Devon and Cornwall Police have launched their annual summer clampdown on motorists who drive whilst under the influence of drink or drugs.

Officers are also warning motorists who drive the morning after, especially those who have been watching World Cup games on TV.

Inspector Richard Pryce, of Devon and Cornwall's road policing unit, said: "Although we are highlighting this summer's campaign, we are proactively seeking out drink and drug drivers throughout the year.

"We know the fine weather and the World Cup could lead to people having a drink and chancing the drive home. I would plead with anyone thinking of this to see sense and not put lives at risk.

"As well as endangering other road users, someone caught under drink driving faces losing their licence and subsequently their livelihood as well as facing the social stigma that a drink drive ban brings."

Police say they will be carrying out high profile checks across the force area throughout June. The majority of road side checks will take place during the evenings and early mornings.

Mr Pryce added: "I would always urge people to plan ahead and think about the next day before they embark on drinking large amounts of alcohol.

"Alcohol can remain in the system for a long time after you have had your last drink, something many of those who drive the morning after don't count on or realise.

"If anyone is working the morning after or driving early, please drink responsibly the day before, if at all, and be aware of the perils of driving the morning after.

"The message to all motorists is very clear. Have fun, drink if you want too, but don't drive. If you do, you will be caught and face a life changing ban."

Funds walk for flood-hit church

THE Otter Vale Team of Churches has organised a charity trek to raise funds for a flood-hit church that has been shut for more than a year.

Feniton church has been closed to members of the public since it was left devastated by the floods and storms to hit the region in October 2008.

A walk from Ottery St Mary to Feniton is set to take place on Sunday, June 20th, and all money raised will be donated to the Feniton church fund.

For more information about the event, or to take part in the walk, contact Ottery church office on 01404 812062.

You can see the sea bed

YESTERDAY, just in case you missed it, was designated as World Oceans Day. To mark the occasion a seabed map, the first in the UK, has now been made available to the public via Google Earth, making it possible to see the sea floor, including reefs, wrecks and rocky ledges.

The area covered is from Abbotsbury to Swanage and will allow divers, conservationist and marine planners to see exactly what is located on the ocean floor. Known as the Doris project (Dorset Integrated Seabed study), it has been undertaken by Dorset Wildlife Trust (DWT), the Maritime and Coastguard Agency and Channel Coastal Observatory, with a biodiversity grant of £300,000 from Viridor Credits Environmental Company, through the Landfill Communities Fund.

The map will be used to update navigation charts and to provide information to coastal engineers, while DWT will use it to identify vulnerable seabed habitats. In addition, recreational divers can now choose an unexplored spot on the map, take GPS co-ordinates and head straight for it. It is also hoped that volunteer divers will continue with the surveying to help fill in more habitat information. It is hoped to continue the work over the next two years to extend the map to the western tip of the Isle of Wight in the east and to cover the whole of Lyme Bay in the west.

You can see the Doris map in Google Earth at <http://tinyurl.com/dorismap>, with linked photos appearing as you zoom in. If any divers would like to help with the work of extending the seabed map they should contact DWT on 01305 264620.

Jim Paice, the new Defra Minister, in announcing at the recent Devon County Show that he was prepared to instigate a cull of badgers in areas of the Westcountry, will doubtless have pleased the farming community and, at the same time, aroused the ire of the badger protagonists. Whether a cull is put in place is, I think, still debatable, especially as the first TB vaccine for badgers has now been licenced for use. Apparently Defra had intended to introduce the vaccine this summer as part of the Badger Vaccine Deployment Project and it was intended that it should be used in the six areas in England most affected by TB in cattle.

The project, which came under the aegis of the former Environment Secretary "Veggie" Benn, would have involved trapping and vaccinating badgers over a five-year period in the worst affected areas and would have included Devon. The NFU, while supporting the work on the development of vaccines for bovine TB, believes that vaccination alone will not control or eradicate the disease and can be seen as only one part of a multi-faceted approach to the problem.

Will the badger vaccine programme still go ahead? One thing is certain. It would be quite pointless and lead to total confusion if any attempt were made to combine vaccinating and also culling badgers. It is one thing or the other. Doubtless, we will learn the outcome in due course.

Meanwhile, on the bird front May proved to be a very disappointing month for fresh and interesting arrivals on our coast, though a good number of red kites were seen, with single birds over Musbury and Colyton, while as many as 20 were spotted over the Lizard in Cornwall and Exmouth saw five kites in two days. One wonders when the first birds will nest in the Westcountry. Several cuckoos have been heard, which is encouraging, while reed warblers and sedge warblers appear to be in very good heart.

Don't forget that the temporary Biodiversity Exhibition at Seaton opened on June 3rd and will be available on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 10am to 4pm. The Countryside Service would be grateful if anyone would ring them as often as they like with interesting wildlife sightings from the estuary and coast to make the exhibition as alive and up-to-date as possible. The number is 07734 568923.

the churches

With Nigel Speller

THIS week starts at the top, with the arrival of the Annual Report of the Church Commissioners of the Church of England.

They exist to support the ministry of the Church of England, with contributions towards clergy stipends, and pensions, paying for bishops and some help for cathedrals' fabric, and housing assistance for clergy in retirement. Overall the funds showed an increase in value despite unfavourable world conditions. Copies of the full report for 2009 with a short summary, are available free by contacting 020 7898 1135/1619/1623.

Many churches are looking for ways of improving their income. One way is by running a community/church-owned shop. The Plunkett Foundation — www.plunkett.co.uk — supports rural communities by offering advice and practical assistance. There are at present over 250 such shops in the UK and this number is growing by around 20 a year. Halls, churches and pubs as well as portable buildings house these enterprises. Two examples of successful church projects are at St Leonards Yarpole in Herefordshire, and at Moggerhanger, near St Albans.

Coming soon, on July 11th, is the day set aside in the church's calendar to remember seafarers, their families and those that serve them. This is a joint effort of The Mission to Seafarers (Anglican), the Apostleship of the Sea (Roman Catholic) and the Sailors' Society (free churches) to recognise the contributions of seafarers worldwide, and to pray for them. Special literature and posters are available from www.seasunday.org/about-sea-sunday.

On home ground, Seaton parish is offering some short training sessions for those who lead worship in their churches or would like to. The titles are Preparing to Lead Intercessions and Using a Microphone. The first series will be held on June 14th and 21st at 7.30pm and on June 15th and 22nd at 2pm — each session is 90 minutes. The second topic is on June 29th at 2pm and 7pm; to book places on either series contact Rev Jeremy Trew on 01297 203391.

If you want a variety of music events this summer, Colyton's church is the place in the next few weeks. On Sunday afternoon, June 20th at 3.30pm there is a piano concert given by Nicholas Brown, the director of music — with a retiring collection in aid of the Choir Bursary Fund.

On July 2nd at 7.30pm, as part of Colyton Music Festival, the Simon Watterton Trio performs Beethoven's Archduke Trio and others by Haydn and Debussy. On July 3rd, there is an invitation to come and sing Haydn's Creation, directed by Brian Kay — places need to be booked on 01297 560493. Rehearsals start at 11am and the concert is at 5pm.

Many readers will be aware of the two church reports completed over two decades ago, entitled Faith in the City and Faith in the Countryside, which subsequently led Anglican churches to review the models of leadership and ministry. Much progress has been made but more remains to be done. A further useful aid is a book entitled Reshaping Rural Ministry (ISBN 978 1 85311953 8.)

Not all our readers will associate Branscombe church with the founder of an Oxford College. In short, the tomb of the mother of the founder of Wadham College Oxford, Joan Wadham, is situated in Branscombe church. Joan's son, Nicholas, along with his widow, Dorothy, was the founder of the Oxford College which bears the family name. This college celebrates its 400th anniversary this year with a series of special events.

One of these is based locally when a number of college members will visit Branscombe over the weekend of June 26th-27th. Contact 01297 680424.

A closing word this week from Linda Chester, who said: "I wonder how many photographs you keep or display? Photos are such a wonderful way of capturing special moments and a lovely record of past events. We all have our particular favourites and one of mine is of my eldest nephew at six years old, playing happily in my garden."

However, that one picture is just one tiny piece in the jigsaw of the whole person. He is now a qualified engineer with a family of his own, who enjoys playing squash or the saxophone in his 'free time'.

Two Sundays ago was Trinity Sunday when we thought about the three persons of the Trinity: the awesome creator, God; Jesus, the human face of God; and The Holy Spirit — God's way of working in the world. Personally, I find it helpful to reflect on the different faces or facets of God.

We so often try to understand and categorise God, putting Him into our limited language and pigeon holes. We need to allow for a much bigger picture, well beyond our human understanding. Each snapshot remains special, but it is always incomplete. There is always so much more for us to learn about God and our relationship with Him.

Primary pupils showcase their musical talents

MORE than 50 children showed off their musical talents during the annual music evening at St Mary's Catholic Primary School, Axminster.

The event was held for the ninth successive year and the youngsters showed they could not only sing, but also mastered instruments including guitar, piano, flute, clarinet, violin, recorder, cornet and glockenspiel.

The event, held on May 27th, was organised by the school's music teacher, Angela Drake, and the children were accompanied by their various instrument teachers.

Headteacher Mark Brown said: "The evening was a real opportunity to showcase the wonderful talents of so many of the children here at St Mary's and its success was down to the hard work of Mrs Drake, the other music teachers and of course, most importantly, the children."

African day for Acorns

CHILDREN at Shute Little Acorns Pre-School embraced all things African recently.

The African day came after a safari theme at the pre-school.

Pre-school leader Amanda Deam said: "Children have been learning through the theme On Safari over the last few weeks."

"What an adventure we have had, finding lost animals in the outdoor environment and learning to use the camera to capture their hideouts, to sorting animals by size and pattern, sharing wonderful stories based in Africa to name just a few."

"We ended it all with a day of face painting, exotic fruit salad for snacks, dancing to African music, making beaded jewellery and playing a traditional African game."

Duo concert marks 30th

CATHEDRAL organist Ian Tracey has invited American Carlo Curley and his touring organ to give a joint concert in Ottery on Wednesday, June 16th.

The concert starts at 7.45pm in the parish church and marks the 30th anniversary of Mr Tracey's first performance in the town.

According to organisers, Carlo Curley made history as the first classical organist to give a solo organ recital in The White House.

Today, he tours the world, having played in every state and province in north America and Canada, as well as in Europe, Asia and Australia.

Tickets are available from Ottery Tourist Information Centre priced £15 and £10.

THE TREORCHY MALE VOICE CHOIR

"The master choir of them all"

Sir Anthony Hopkins

WALES enjoys a universal image as the Land of Song and nowhere has this been better represented than in the Rhondda Valley where more than 125 years ago the world famous Treorchy Male Choir was formed. Following its inauspicious beginnings in a valley pub in 1883 the Choir developed into a national eisteddfod winner, culminating in a Royal Command Performance for Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle.

The present Treorchy Male Choir was reformed on October 16, 1946 under the baton of John Haydn Davies who transformed the raw musical recruits into an international institution. They scaled the peaks of musical distinction by gaining a record eight National Eisteddfod wins, making a total of twenty-two first prizes out of twenty seven entries. The unique Treorchy Sound was heard worldwide as they made regular radio and television broadcasts, commercial recordings, two feature films and an overseas tour to Switzerland in 1963.

Treorchy became the first male choir to venture into the uncharted territory of popular music and subsequently has made almost sixty commercial recordings, making it probably the most recorded in the world. In more recent years their radical attitude to music making included a ground-breaking album of music by Freddie Mercury, two recordings of music by Bob Marley and in complete contrast they became the first British choir to perform Sibelius' Kullervo Symphony in Finnish. All proceeds from their latest CD, "The Liberation Hymn" is being donated to the Help for Heroes Campaign.

The Choir has shared the stage with some of the world's greatest entertainers. Television programmes with Sir Tom Jones, Ella Fitzgerald, Julie Andrews, Sir Harry Secombe and Burt Bacharach was only the beginning of their long association with major celebrities. They have appeared either on stage, screen or in the recording studio with Shirley Bassey, Gwyneth Jones, Michael Ball, Katherine Jenkins, Iris Williams, Max Boyce, Bryn Terfel, Ozzie Osbourne, Jon Bon Jovi, Cliff Richard, Andrea Bocelli, Russell Watson and Il Divo. They have also enjoyed the distinct pleasure of performing at the Royal Variety Show and undertaking several Royal Command Performances for Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and the Royal Family.

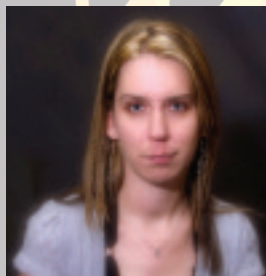

Since the early 1980s the Choir has undertaken an enviable number of overseas tours beginning with two visits to Canada and a performance in Strasbourg Cathedral for its congregation of almost 6,000 people. Four successful tours of the USA followed, with visits to the White House and performances in San Francisco, Denver, Seattle and the Mid West. Treorchy has enjoyed an enduring love affair with Australia, becoming the first Welsh choir to appear at the Sydney Opera House in 1986. In recent years they have made three further visits "down under" appearing in Brisbane, Perth, Adelaide, Canberra and Melbourne while making return visits to the Opera House in Sydney. During their visit in 2009 they also enjoyed a triumphant concert tour of New Zealand.

Treorchy Male Choir, a registered charity devoted to raising tens of thousands of pounds per year for worthwhile causes, remains bound together and united in the common purpose of the enjoyment of music making and of giving pleasure to others. Long may this continue.

Dean Powell, Publicity Officer & Hon. Archivist

Helen Roberts - Accompanist

Helen Roberts was born in Trowbridge, Wiltshire. She started to learn a variety of instruments at an early age including the flute and violin but soon developed an aptitude for the piano. She joined the West Wiltshire Young Musicians and at the age of ten won the prestigious Honeywell Cup for outstanding musicianship.

While she was studying at the Clarendon School, Helen was in popular demand as an accompanist and during this time played the piano in a command performance at Longleat

House at the request of Lord Bath himself.

In 2000, Helen became the principal accompanist for the Silver Ring Choir of Bath, during which time she undertook concert tours of Germany and Holland. Following a concert in 2003 featuring the Silver Ring Choir and Treorchy Male Choir, Helen was invited to become the deputy accompanist to Treorchy Male Choir and joined them on their successful tour of Australia in 2004. One of her proudest moments to date is performing at the Sydney Opera House.

Following four years as a pupil of Fazliddin Husanov, the eminent Russian pianist, Helen graduated with a Bachelor of Music Degree from the Royal Welsh College of Music and Drama in Cardiff in 2007.

Helen was appointed Accompanist of the Treorchy Male Choir during the same year and is also the Accompanist for the Heritage Singers and Cor Meibion Llanelli.

Iona Jones - Soprano

Iona was born in North Wales but brought up in Cardiff. She is a graduate of the Guildhall School of Music and Goldsmiths' College University of London, she also holds an LRAM Diploma for the teaching of singing.

A founder member and current tutor of the National Youth Choir of Wales she also tutors with the Cardiff County and the Vale of Glamorgan Youth and High Schools Choirs, and is a singing tutor at University of Wales, Newport, and Cardiff University.

Iona has toured extensively and is in frequent demand both on the concert platform and as an oratorio performer.

She has toured to Australia, New Zealand, Germany, France, Brussels, Malta, USSR, Hungary, Prague, USA, Canada, Barbados and Vienna, appearing at such prestigious venues as the Sydney Opera House and New York's Carnegie Hall.

In August 2000, at the Llanelli National Eisteddfod, Iona culminated her competitive career by winning the prestigious David Ellis Memorial Prize - The Blue Riband.

Frequently called upon to perform 20th century Welsh music, she sang in a recital at the Gregynog Festival 2006 with Iwan Llewelyn-Jones, piano, and Sara Trickey, violin, commemorating Grace Williams' centenary.

Iona was also chosen to perform the winning song cycle during the Composers Medal Ceremony, at the National Eisteddfod and was delighted to have been invited back to sing in a performance of Gounod's "St. Cecilia Mass" at the 2007 Eisteddfod.

She has made guest appearances with a variety of Welsh male voice choirs and also with the Cory Band.

Iona was delighted to have accompanied Treorchy Male Choir on their 2009 tour of Australia and New Zealand this being her third Antipodeans tour.

Janice Ball - Conductor

Jan Ball was born in the Swansea Valley and began playing the piano and organ as a child. She later followed a Bachelor of Music degree in Musical Composition at the University of Wales, Cardiff where she studied under tutors John McGabe and Patrick Piggott. Following her graduation she taught piano and organ and gained a reputation as a professional accompanist to singers and choral organisations.

A television contract resulted in many guest appearances as an accompanist to a range of well-known singers for HTV Wales and in 1969 she was appointed accompanist and assistant conductor to the internationally renowned Ardwyn Singers of Cardiff. She was also the accompanist of the National Youth Choir of Wales for 20 years.

As an organist she has played at the Metropolitan Cathedral in Washington D.C., the Royal Albert Hall, Valetta Cathedral in Malta, the Sydney Opera House and also in the cathedrals of Russia and Germany. She was also invited to undertake a series of organ recitals in Barbados and has undertaken tours to Australia as accompanist to the Morriston Orpheus Male Choir. For a decade Jan was the Head of Music at Coleg Glan Hafren in the Welsh capital and now tutors at the University of Wales College of Cardiff, Howells School in Llandaff and also works with the Welsh National Opera Education Programme.

In constant demand as a pianist and organist, Jan, who also holds a pilot's licence, became the Choir's accompanist in 2002. She has since undertaken two hugely successful tours of Australia with them which includes the choirs tour of Australia and New Zealand in May 2009 as well as performing in some of the UK's top concert venues. Following a period as Deputy Conductor, she was appointed the first female Conductor of the Treorchy Male Choir in the summer of 2007.

LANDLORDS BEWARE! HIDDEN CHARGES

"DUE to so much legislation having been implemented, letting agents are finding the job far more labour intensive," says Rachael James MARLA of Symonds and Sampson Lettings and Property Management.

"Subsequently, many other letting agents are having to charge additional fees, to increase their profit margins. A small example being: deposit registration fees with dispersal and legal fees connected to this, higher tenancy agreement fees, administration fees to the landlord for organising contractors and renewal fees for both landlords and tenants. The list can be endless!

"Symonds and Sampson have purposefully left their terms and conditions totally straight forward, with charges kept to an absolute minimum, even though they are working harder than ever for their landlords and tenants. Symonds and Sampson have over 20 year's experience in achieving good, consistent levels of rent, with happy landlords and tenants. They manage over 500 properties throughout Dorset, Somerset and Devon. Call your local office to talk to one of the letting managers.

Remember, it costs nothing to change your managing agent if you are unhappy with their service, however, make sure you check your existing agreement."

June Holistic Cancer Support Day

AXCIS Cancer Support is dedicated to supporting anyone living with cancer, whether newly diagnosed or more long term, and also to supporting their Carers. Based in Axminster, Axcis extends its services to the three counties of West Dorset, East Devon and South Somerset.

After a launch in April, Axcis is holding another Holistic Cancer Support Day on Sunday, June 13th, 10am to 4pm. Participation is free and entirely complementary and compatible with orthodox treatment. There will be the opportunity to receive some on-going free or subsidised complementary healing treatments: anything from gentle massage to reflexology, counselling, homeopathy, shiatsu, acupuncture or healing.

Co-ordinator for Axcis, Helena Malekin said "After a successful Holistic Cancer Support Day in April we want to continue serving and helping people in the south-west through their personal experience of cancer.

We aim to empower people to find their own way through what is a very difficult time, and everyone's experience of cancer, its diagnosis and treatments is different. People CAN find ways of helping themselves emotionally, mentally in the sense of creating calm and reducing fears, and even physically in the sense of relieving pain and discomfort from symptoms and the side effects of treatments. Also using relaxation and visualisation can really make a difference not only to how the on-going conventional treatment is experienced but in a real sense of how one feels overall which in turn affects ones health. If people feel a little more in control of their own healing they often feel better too, which allows the body to heal better. Using complementary treatments can have a powerful effect on people's underlying energy and how symptoms manifest. The period immediately after chemotherapy or other treatments have stopped can also be crucial in gently turning oneself towards a more integrated experience of health.

Through all the chaos, the pain, the emotions, many are able to find a sense of wholeness and well being. During our Support Day nutritional advice will be available. Sharing and learning from others is also usually very empowering. It is about helping people to be more at the centre of their own healing and treating people as whole persons with a mental, spiritual, emotional and environmental context as well as the physical.

Axcis is incredibly fortunate and very grateful to have received funding from the lottery Awards for All Scheme, Macmillan and more recently from the staff at the Averina Centre in Chard and the Awareness Centre in Axminster"

Happy birthday driving test - 75 today. time to get a makeover!

The driving test is 75 today, and the What Car? Driving School is calling on the Government to allow learner drivers to experience motorway driving before taking their test.

"It's ludicrous that as soon as learners get their full licence they can drive on the fastest and arguably the most intimidating roads in the country without having any relevant experience," said Paul Atkinson, of the What Car? Driving School.

"Motorways can be hugely daunting, and many a learner has to take a deep breath when joining a motorway for the first time in their driving career. Statistically, motorways may be safer than country lanes, but if an accident does happen it can be much more serious. Inexperienced drivers would benefit from time with a professional approved driving instructor on a motorway to gain greater confidence. Motorways are just not the place for inexperienced solo drivers."

The What Car? Driving School believes that the driving curriculum needs to be continuously revisited to reflect changes in motoring.

"Looking further ahead, learner drivers are going to need expert tuition to get to grips with some of the new technology that is on the way. For example, driving an electric car that has a different braking system to traditional cars and makes virtually no noise in pedestrian areas is something that needs to be addressed. How to handle cars capable of extremely high speeds is another situation that must be looked at," said Atkinson.

RUNNING NEWS AND RESULTS

Axe Valley runners' duo complete five marathons in five days

HONITON RUNNING CLUB with Judy Davey

THE Crewkerne nine mile road race took place last Sunday and several Honiton runners took part.

The race's headquarters is at the Town Hall where the finish is and runners are taken straight out into the countryside where there are some glorious views. The first 1½ miles is an out and back route which also forms the three mile Junior/Fun Run route.

This part is very hilly which is particularly challenging for those taking part in the Junior race. At least the adults get a bit of respite with a flattish section somewhere mid race.

This was the first time Brian Charters had run the race and he was determined to finish under the hour. He managed this by nine seconds finishing 13th overall. Steve Davey doesn't usually like hills but he was determined to keep ahead of his wife Judy which he just about managed. He came 37th in 1:07:56 followed by Judy three places later in 1:09:27. Judy was 4th lady and 1st in her category.

The only other two Honiton runners in the main race were Sarah Warren who came 61st in 1:14:21. She was pushed by Maria Wadey who came in one place and 16 seconds behind her. There were 102 runners.

Katie Davey ran a great time in the Junior race collecting a trophy for 2nd girl. She finished the three miles in 26 minutes.

The second running of the Blackdown Beauty takes place on Saturday 24th July. This is a social run taking in 5 pubs and a cream tea on an 18 mile circuit of the wonderful countryside of the Blackdown Hills.

This is not a race but a chance to run and walk in good company enjoying the beautiful scenery following public footpaths and minor roads. It starts at 11.45 am at the Holman Clavel pub at Culmhead and heads through Pine Woods to the Queen's Arms at Pitminster.

The route then goes cross country to Blagdon Hill and up to the Merry Harriers pub and then on to the Half Moon at Clayhidon. The next stop is at Pear Tree Cottage at Stapley for a cream tea provided by the 'legendary' Smeatharpe WI, then on to the York Inn at Churchinford before heading back to the Holman Clavel via Otterhead Lakes.

Visit www.honitonrc.com website for an entry form. Entry fee is £6 to include a souvenir map and cream tea. Meals will also be available at the finish.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS with Dave Mutter

AVR's Steve Reynolds and Geoff Woodward were elated to finish the five marathons in five days at Bulford Garrison on Monday 31st May.

They started on Friday 27th May at Ilfracombe and were really pleased to have run the whole way, only walking a few exceptionally steep climbs.

Jokingly the pair said they had collected seven blisters, £6,000 for military charities and five lots of hideous leg ache. Along the way they hit some low points, when so tired they lost sight of the goal and the reason why they were punishing their not too young bodies in that way. However these were soon spirited away by spectator support and at one point it was necessary to call on Geoff's daughter Michelle to relieve them of bags full of coins donated by passersby.

Fuelled by pasta, sausage and beans, the benefits of which were not apparent under canvas, they took a wrong turn in marathon five clocking up two extra miles, finishing the whole event in 23hrs 42mins.

Covering 133.2 miles the pair averaged a remarkable 4hrs 24mins per marathon. They will now be returning to their normal junk food and ale diet. Would you believe they are even considering repeating the whole thing again next year.

There was an AVR social on Friday evening when Dave Mutter lead an unsuspecting gang of AVR's on a guided tour of Beer Quarry Caves, followed by a quiz at Beer Social Club. After the fine dining provided by Lady Eleanor and Mrs Jeepers, a special Eleanor cake was presented to Geoff Woodward congratulating him on the magnificent achievement of running 5 marathons in five days.

Dave Kelf found himself representing the "Park Run" team at Monday's London 10K and did somewhere between 49:45 (timer gantry) and 50:42 (chip timing), which included a loo stop at 3k, thorn removal at 5k and tea with the Queen at the finish. Never-the-more, his position was 2219th out of about 13,500 so not too bad.

Just as well it wasn't supposed to be a race (although the winner did break the British 10k road record). Official excuse of the day (by the public announcer) was "apologies for the enormous amounts of pollen dropping from the London Plane trees", it certainly did affect Dave even though he is used to running through the Devon hedgerows.

It was great to see the Talaton trotter race back this year after a year out due to some bridge troubles. Seven AVR's made it out for this beautiful run on a really hot day. The overall winner was Jake Waldron from South West Road Runners in 45:28. First AVR home was Alex Todd. Race excitement meant he shot away from the line and went a little wrong on two occasions; maybe he was going too fast to read the signs! He still managed a brilliant 3rd overall in 45:59 and a bottle of wine for his efforts.

Next home was Chris Keeffe who managed 9th in 51:54 despite forgetting his shorts and having to run in some trousers on a very hot day. Eleanor Wood had her usual strong run she finished 20th in 55:32 and got a bottle of wine for being first lady over 50. Next home was Mark Hilder 29th in 57:49 closely followed by Geoff Woodward who was 31st in 58:16 and Steve Reynolds 45th in 1:02:34. Chelle Woodward ran really well finishing 67th in 1:09:36.

The race was a great success with 94 finishers in total a big thank you to Robin Ridge for organising this event.

On Sunday there was an 8 strong field out from Axe Valley Runners to have a go at the Run In The Wild organised by Chard Road Runners. The run set in the stunning grounds of Cricket Saint Thomas was a massive success with 279 finishers. Many AVR's decided to do this after racing in Talaton the day before. First of these home was Alex Todd who had a brilliant run and once again managed 3rd place in 44 minutes dead.

Next home was Chris Keeffe who managed 22nd in 49:28 very pleased just to get round in the heat. Geoff Woodward was next home seems the more he runs the better he gets. He finished 64th in 55:25 after a bit of a battle with Eleanor who finished just two positions and eight seconds adrift however she won yet more goodies for being the first female vet 45. Tracey Stone ran very well finishing 205th in 1:04:40. Bridget Keeffe was very pleased she managed 222nd in 1:14:53. Gill Day was 270th in 1:24:55 and Harry Moore was our final AVR he did very well finishing 279th in 1:58 winning a bottle of Otter Ale for being the oldest finisher.

Very early on Sunday Morning, Dawn Potter joined about 80 others, including fellow AVR Luke Reed on the shore of Greenhill beach in Weymouth for the Weymouth Sprint Triathlon.

This was to be Dawn's very first venture into the triple discipline event which in this case involved a 750m sea swim, 20km bike ride and finally 5km run. She thoroughly enjoyed the whole experience and was thrilled to bits to complete in a time of 1:37:18, much quicker than she had been anticipating. She is now eagerly looking forward to her next tri!

Luke, celebrated his 30th birthday in style with another fantastic result, 7th in a time of 1:14:07.

Hellier - Steele Perkins Trophies

WE played the the second and final rounds of the Hellier and Steele Perkins Bogey competitions where final placings are determined.

Bogey is a demanding format, pitting your handicap against the course standard scratch figures and many a first round disaster can be hauled back in the second 18 holes.

Nothing can be taken for granted in this competition as first round joint leader Phil Wall found to his cost. We won't dwell on it but the course seems to have beaten him soundly in his second round score. But his co leader for the Div2 Steele Perkins Trophy, Max Pipe, went on to better his first round score with a +3.

Bob Bilyard turned round a -2 first round score with a +5 in the Division One Hellier Trophy competition. The final day results were in Division One B. Bilyard +5, J. Gosling +5 and T. Dimond +4.

Division Two had M. Fowler +4, M. Pipe +3 and R. Davies +1 leaving the eventual winners as Bob Bilyard (-2 and +5 for +3) taking the Hellier Trophy and Max Pipe (+1 and +3 for +4) with the Hellier Steele Perkins Trophy.

Treble Six Cup

Ladies with Handicaps 31-36 were able to play for a new trophy this year called the High Six. Format is Stableford. The winner with an excellent score of 40 pts was Pam Greenaway. Runner Up with 35 pts was Majsan Stroud.

Senior Section

THIS week the Seniors enjoyed a novelty competition in a format new to the group.

This came in the form of a Stableford Bisque where the handicap strokes may be applied wherever the player decides.

This led to some head scratching and a variety of strategies ranging from playing as normal where strokes are received according to the stroke index of the hole, taking strokes on holes that individual players always found difficult, taking most strokes on the back nine, to bizarrely taking all strokes on the first hole.

This latter play had the effect of few points scored on the back nine and a loss of position as count back came into effect for the result.

The winner in Division One was Vic Wood with his 10 handicap proving that class always tells. Second was Mike Kent with 41 points followed by Phil Donne-Davis on 40, Geoff Filtress on 38 beating Bill Nicholls on countback.

In Division Two Malcolm Matthews found the right strategy winning with 39 points from Norman Ede on 37, John Vessey 37, Keith Thomas 36 and David Ive with 35 points.

To cap an enjoyable day Ron Cooper scored a hole in one on the second and provided the liquid refreshment at the 19th hole.

Cricket round-up

HONITON 1st XI v TOPSHAM ST JAMES 1st XI
by Andrew Lapping

HONITON 1st XI travelled to Topsham St James with a weakened team compared to previous weeks.

The wicket looked in excellent condition and having won the toss elected to bat. Openers Phil Tansley and George Meadows got Honiton off to a flyer putting on 50 in the first 7 overs. Tansley fell shortly after for 25.

Then came the normal mini collapse losing three quick wickets. Meadows was then joined by Andy Canniford who went on to score 35 before departing. Honiton lost 3 more wickets quite cheaply but this didn't deter current man in form Meadows. He went on to score his maiden century and finally fell to an excellent catch having scored 111. His was a faultless innings and he did not give one chance with the exception of being bowled off a no ball.

With 200 on the board number 8 Ian Drew came to the crease. After a patient start he then let cut loose scoring a quick fire 50 not out and Honiton were bowled out in the last over for 274.

Honiton took to the field and opened with Tansley and Adam Holmes. Topsham rode their luck with catches not going to hand before Tansley removed their opener with score on 45. Rob Ingram came into the attack and took a couple of quick wickets and Topsham were on the back foot. However they rallied and started to score relatively quickly. Honiton kept changing the attack regularly and had the hosts in trouble at 220 for 9 with 5 overs to go. Topsham held on to deny Honiton maximum point finishing on 229 for 9.

Tansley and Holmes finished with a couple of wickets each and Ingram 4 for 48 from 10 overs. Skipper Neil Pulman was pleased with the performance and thought the players who came in acquitted themselves well. Honiton finished with 15 points and Topsham 12 which seems a little unjust as they were on top throughout the game. Honiton entertain Cullumpton next week in what should be a cracking game.

HONITON 2nd XI v EXMOUTH 3rd XI

HONITON, welcoming Ollie Cave and Kev Kelly to their maiden 2nd XI outing of 2010, won the toss and inserted visitors Exmouth on a hard, almost dusty, wicket which looked full of runs.

Craig Lapping bowled Wensley for 25 with the score on 28 while Kev Kelly kept the lid on the Exmouth run rate early on as they grafted their way to 55-1. Schmidt, brought on at first change to exploit the conditions, then produced a good one to account for Sampford and added Jarvis to his account as Beighton made no mistake with the catch.

Brinsford helped to restrict things in the middle of the innings, bowling a typically penurious spell and picking up the wicket of Cross, while Hartnoll made inroads into the lower middle order.

Opening bat and top scorer Page's knock of 61 was top drawer in terms of technique and application, but Exmouth, never really managed to break their shackles despite various attempts.

A late flurry of runs guilded the Exmouth total 188-9. All the Honiton bowlers shared the wickets, Hartnoll taking 3-43, Schmidt 2-30 and Craig Lapping 2-38.

The Honiton chase had reached 13 when Cave gloved behind for nine. Strawbridge hit a rapid 23 (4 fours) before top edging a pull at Marks.

The Honiton reply then fell into decline. Skipper Andrew Lapping was adjudged LBW to one which may have been doing too much in terms of height.

All the while, opening bat Pete Beighton attempted to hold the innings together, but his colleagues were not to be persuaded as Craig Lapping was defeated by a good one from Northover and the cultured Ian Kelly, perished in identical fashion, playing down the Bakerloo line with the ball hurtling down the Metropolitan.

Brinsford (13) led a hazardous exist-tence, clinging on long enough to add 24 with Beighton who began to open his shoulders, hitting one meaty six into the undergrowth. Sluman edged behind and Hartnoll clonked a couple of fours before picking the wrong ball to attempt a third.

Schmidt helped to add 17 for the last wicket before being exposed to the pacy Ashaq and Honiton crumbled to 118 all out. Beighton, carrying his bat for a gritty 33 in 36 overs, was the only real highlight of the innings, with perhaps too many of his colleagues perishing to glory shots against the testing Exmouth attack.

Francis Clark Devon League D DivisionOttery St Mary 129 lost to Lewdown 132-2 by 8 wks.By Ian Townsend*

OTTERY St Mary 1st XI's season goes from bad to worse as this comprehensive demolition by early season pace-setters Lewdown leaves them ten points adrift at the foot of their division.

Sixteen year old Jack Pritchard's beautifully crafted 38 not out was the only bright spot as the Otters crumbled to a disappointing 129 all out in the face of a devastating blitz from South African paceman Rob Mutch (5-37).

The home bowling attack then made little impression as Lewdown cruised to an easy victory, opener Kriss Harris posting a fine undefeated 71.

Francis Clark Devon League 2nd XI C DivisionOttery St Mary 150 lost to Ivybridge 193-7 by 43 runs.by Ian Townsend*

ONCE again a lack of batting strength in depth saw a youthful Otters 2nd XI beaten despite a spirited display and excellent bowling and fielding.

After the West Devon side reached 130-1, courtesy of half centuries from K.Jacobs (61) and C.Greenhouse (50), off spinners Nick Doman (4-41) and 16 year old Matt Reed (1-51) helped restrict the home side to 193-7.

In reply Ottery were once again indebted to in-form all rounder Rob Crabb who struck 74 as he was well supported by Anthony Dean (12) and Alex Tubbs (18), but then ran out of partners as the inexperienced visitors fell well short of their target.

Seaton v Clyst Hydon

SEATON won the toss and elected to bowl, and with increased bowling options available to captain Mike Wheeler in the form of the returning experienced Mike Cottam and Seaton new signing of the Dutch youth international leg spinner Joust Kroesen was confident of a more balance attack.

The Clyst Hydon openers started at a very brisk scoring pace taking 31 runs off the first four overs before Andy Feathers was cleaned bowled by Ben Copp for 6.

This then brought C.Jelly in to join I. Sutton to continue the onslaught against the Seaton opening bowlers. Wheeler then decided to bring on the experienced head of Mike Cottam who removed Sutton in his second over for 37. Jelly went on to make 53 and C.Lewis an unbeaten 42 as the visitors closed on 228 for 8 after 46 overs.

Seaton wicket takers were Cottam (13-55-1), Kroesen with debut figures of (6-1-25-2), B.Morgan (11-2-66-1) and B.Copp (11-1-55-1).

Seaton's reply was mainly dominated by Clyst Hydon Sri Lankan fast bowler D.Haturusingha who took 5 wks for 42. J Waterhouse was the only Seaton to provide any real resistance with a steady 72 before falling lbw. Ben Morgan chipped in with 32 and M.Wheeler a quickfire 26 off 24 balls. The match ended in a draw.

ALL THE WEEK'S BOWLS NEWS AND RESULTS

SEATON

with Edward Harden

ON June 2nd the club convincingly beat Pines Gardens C team in the over 60s Triples League by 56 shots to 17. The top triple was Alan Wood, Ivor Steer and Ron Rowley.

We narrowly lost to Chardstock on June 4th by 76 shots to 77. Top Seaton rink was Frank Brown, Smiler Jenkin, Fred Dart and Roy Carnell.

The following day we entertained Cold Ashby Tourists and won by 118 shots to 100. Top rink was Shirley Fewtrell, Alan Pritchard, Ken Russell and Rhonda Follenfant.

In the ladies Grace Mathews Top Club competition against Budleigh Salterton Seaton Ladies won by three games to two. Shirley Parkhouse, Joan Russell, Shirley Fewtrell and Barbara Harden winning the rink, Marian Vessey and Barbara Thompson winning the pairs and Angie Mayhew winning the two wood single.

Budleigh ladies won the triples and four wood singles.

FENITON

with Roger Smith

ON Bank Holiday Monday, Feniton entertained St. Fagans, a touring side from South Wales.

In a competitive and very friendly match Feniton won by the narrowest of margins 123-119. On four of the six rinks the shot difference was two or less. The winning rinks for Feniton were Les Crook, Judy Smith, Lyn Eveleigh and Kevin Lovering 27-18, Anita Pritchard, Frank Imms, Roger Clarke and Tony Kury 22-20, Glynda Blackmore, Frank Brooks, Eileen Tuck and Martyn Eveleigh 15-14 and John Dibble, Dot Chipperfield, Don Conbeer and Ian Veitch 18-17.

On Tuesday the roles were reversed with Feniton losing against the touring side Dunstable by 116-122. The winning rinks were Ted Goodenough, Jane Skinner, Eddie Cox and Sue Kury and Anne Edwards, Stan Nevill, George Skinner and Don Conbeer 30-9.

Later in the week a third touring side from Cold Ashby visited the Club and Feniton lost a good natured and friendly match by 107-125. The winning rinks were Ruth Clarke, Martin Mitchell, Alan Smith and Tony Kury 20-17, Frank Jones, Gill Smith, George Skinner and Eileen Tuck 21-16 and Di Phillips, Anita Pritchard, John Livings and Ian Veitch 19-18.

The Men's team continues to a struggle in the County Trophy competition losing to Madeira by 59-107.

However, the resurgence in form of the over 60s A team continues with a maximum points victory away against Marina B, by 40-11.

The winning rinks were John Livings, Allan Godfrey and Richard North 26-8 and Eddie Cox, Andrew Evans and Arthur Williams 14-9.

The B team's early season success has evaporated away and they lost away to Topsham C by 25-37.

At the weekend, the mixed team enjoyed success in both their away matches. On Saturday they defeated Heavitree by 84-67. The winning rinks were Frank Brooks, Ted Goodenough, Ruby Veitch and Tony Young 28-14 and Les Ley, Di Phillips, Richard North and Christine Granger 23-15.

The following day they visited Belmont and ran out winners by 91-51. The winning rinks were Les Crook, Glynda Blackmore and Kevin Lovering 29-6, Norma Cox, Graham Phillips and John Livings 19-17 and Anita Pritchard, Eddie Cox and Les Ley 30-9.

The Ladies team secured a good win against Yealmpton in the Inter Club Competition.

Judy Smith and Avril Coyne have progressed to the Section 3 quarter final with a narrow victory by 18-17 on the 22nd end.

HONITON

with Tony Broughton

THE men continued their good run in the County Trophy with a win against Budleigh losing only one rink they picked up another 14 from 16 points.

In the Two Counties League against Cullompton we won on three of the four rinks and the match by nine shots, so nine points from 10.

◆ LAUNCHED: Hannah Morfey in action for Honiton against Madeira in Grace Mathews Top club match.

Top rink was Fred Cowey, David Tooley, Brenda Harris and Dennis Hillyear.

The ladies continue their winning spree. Away at St Thomas playing Starcross in the National Two Fours the rinks of Yvonne Rayner, Carole Binmore, Joan Heard and Sue Evans, and Rosemary Hiron, Rita Barwick, Ann Hillyear and Shirley Hiscocks both won.

Saturday was Ladies County Pairs day at Budleigh and three Honiton pairs are through to the group semi-finals.

Carole Binmore with Sue Evans, Dulcie Broughton with Shirley Hiscocks and Jean Mitchell with Ann Hillyear all played two games and won. Jean and Ann now face Sue Harriott and Liz Smerdon, Dulcie and Shirley play Carole and Sue.

Playing Madeira in the first round of the Grace Mathews Top Club, Carole Binmore won the 4 Bowl singles, Rosemary Hiron won the two Bowl singles. Yvonne Rayner and Shirley Hiscocks won the Pairs. Rita Barwick, Ann Hillyear and Brenda Harris won the Triples. Hannah Morfey, Dulcie Broughton, Joan Heard and Sue Evans were 20-14 up with two to play in the Fours.

The Over 60s B side continue to suffer those annoying last end defeats. Away at Morchard Bishop they lost one and won one so only two points from eight.

To show how unlucky they have been they have played six games and lost five but their shot deficit is only 16. (3.2 shots per match)

The A side away at Crediton did not fair too well either. Drawing one and losing one by eight shots so only one point from eight.

The C side were away at Sidmouth and continue to do well winning both rinks by the same 20-13 so the full eight points.

They currently lead Division Two.

Thursday we had two friendly games. First the ladies went to Sidmouth and won on all four rinks with a shot difference of plus 43. Our Top Rink was Lynda Gadd, Anne Newman and Rita Barwick.

At home we had a touring side from Fagan, Cardiff. Having worked and played bowls in Wales for the last few years of my working life I can tell you the Welsh take their bowls very seriously and these were no exception. They gave us a bowls lesson winning on all rinks.

Friday night was the second round Grater Pairs at Seaton. After their good win last week, Don Russell and Tony Broughton took a spanking from Ron Rowley and Roger Wooland. Gordon Mahoney and Trevor Pipe did much better against another Seaton pair having to play only 18 ends to secure a place in the next round.

Trevor and Gordon had a brilliant win in their much-delayed County Pairs match against the Madeira pair of Bill Davis and Josh Hadfield.

At one stage they were 13-6 up but had three bad ends to go 13-14 down, then pulling back to win by three shots.

Our best wishes go to Margaret, Trevor's wife, who is suffering a bit after an operation. Hopefully she will be back with us soon.

Saturday away at Tiverton Park we won two and lost two but drew the match on shots. Top winning rink was Ken Clarke, Carole Pidgeon, Dave Roberts and Pearl Hackwood.

Sunday home to the touring Bloomfield Club, Bath. We won four of the six rinks and the match by 42 shots.

Top rink was the Captain, Eddie Sharman assisted by Anne Newman, Arthur Dimond and Ted Cox.

CHARDSTOCK

ON the evening of Thursday 3rd June, the mens' team entertained Budleigh Salterton in the Devon Section 3 Top Club competition.

For a very small club, Chardstock gave the visitors a very good game.

Of the five different matches, Chardstock won one, and of the remaining four, only lost by one, two, seven and 11 shots respectively.

Chardstock Captain Peter Compton won the four wood singles by 21-17 shots.

Two wood singles: T.Bird lost 19-21 4 wood singles: P. Compton won 21-17 Pairs: A. Day M. Toms lost 10-17 Triples: M. Rogers J. Tucker K. Wakelin (Skip) lost 13-24 Fours: J. Bartholomew M. Davenport K. Warren N. Denslow lost 17-18. Best wishes to Budleigh Salterton in the next round.

A hot sunny afternoon took the mens' team to Seaton on Friday, June 4th for a four rink match.

A very entertaining match ensued with Chardstock winning on two rinks – one of these on the very last end, with a draw and defeat on the remainder. Chardstock won overall by one shot, 77-76 shots having already beaten Seaton at home.

T. Bird M. Rogers J. Rolph M. Davenport (Skip) won 17-16, R.Wines P.Bowden A. Day M. Toms (Skip) drew 25-25, P. Potter R. Blackmore G. Bodily N. Denslow (Skip) lost 18-23, A. Callagan J. Smith P. Compton K. Wakelin (Skip) won 17-12.

Saturday, June 5th was a social afternoon when 14 members enjoyed a one Rink and one Triples of 18 ends.

Tea and a chat followed in the club pavilion.

Bluebells and bicycles

AXE VALLEY PEDALLERS

THERE was a good turnout near to Seaton Tramway despite the unseasonal chill and 23 cyclists, including several members of Exeter CTC, set off on the annual Bluebell ride led by Simon Hayward of Axe Valley Pedallers.

The group rode through Seaton and up to Stovar Long Lane before splitting into groups for the main road. Off the main road we headed to Blackbury Camp, along the way being passed by several unusual cars aiming for Wiscombe Hill climb.

At Blackbury Camp there was a veritable carpet of bluebells - the ideal setting for the photo shoot.

After cheesy grins it was back on the bikes to shoot down the hill into Southleigh before coming up to Colyton, through the village and then up Mounthill to Whitford.

At Musbury there was an option of taking a direct route to Lower Bruckland nature area and the café, or a few more miles up Trill hill, to see a few more bluebells. The cold made most people's decisions with only a handful opting for the extra few miles!

On arriving at the café we greeted warmly with hot drinks and food. After bacon baps, hot soup and various cakes we all went our separate ways.

Keep up to date with all of Axe Valley Pedallers rides on their website www.axevalleypedallers.org

One date for your diary is Sunday, June 20th when the Pedallers hold their annual rides for National Bike Week.

There will be 4 rides to choose from and a wonderful cycling procession at the end as we make our way to some gardens for a picnic together. It is a brilliant cycling fun day out. All rides start near to the Tramway terminus in Seaton.

ANGELS AND ACORNS STILL UNBEATEN

with Graham Ingram

Division One

A FULL week of fixtures in division one, but at the end of the evening only one team still has an unbeaten record - league leaders Keeley's Angels.

The Angels were in action against Sidmouth Toucans and they dominated the game from the start running out winners by 62-6 despite some fine play from Kirsty Platt for Sidmouth. For the Angels it was Sharon Chester who stood out in a fine team display.

'Visions had started the evening unbeaten but wasps put an end to that. It was a slow start to the game with Wasps leading 7-4. In the second quarter wasps pulled away to lead 16-9 at half way, with 'Visions coming back in the third quarter with Pam Taylor shooting well.

Going into the final session wasps still had the lead at 22-18. With Sasha Williams playing well at GD the Wasps played a more defensive game in the final quarter to hold their four goal lead and win by 27-23.

With 'Visions losing Flamings A took full advantage against Bo-Peeps and their 41-11 win saw them move back into second place.

Christina Oyo played well for the Peeps but Flamings A were just too strong with Katie Marsh having a fine game.

Final game of the night was between Upplowman and Flamings B, and despite losing Flamings B gained a point to move them off the bottom spot.

The first quarter was even at 7-7, before Upplowman opened up a 14-12 lead at half way thanks to some good work from Jules Heal. Going into the final period it was still all to play for with Upplowman just 21-18 in front. With Cressida Auckland playing well for Flamings B the final period went goal for goal with Upplowman hanging on to win by 25-22.

Scores: Flamings A 41 Bo-Peeps 11, Kelley's Angels 62 Sidmouth Toucans 6, Visions 23 Wasps 27, Upplowman 25 Flamings B 22.

Division Two

JUST two games in division two, but with the top three teams all in action, and with Bampton and Tip Top Trees acorns still undefeated.

Bampton were hoping for a win to remain on top, but found themselves up against a Tip Top Trees Oaks side who needed the points to keep in the promotion hunt.

Despite a good performance from Bampton and Sarah Robinson in particular the Oaks were too strong, and with Caroline Quick playing well they recorded a 30-21 win to go level on points with Bampton.

Tip Top Trees Acorns needed a win to go back to the top and they got this from their game against JD Tyres, who remained bottom after their 34-16 goal defeat.

Acorns led from the start and outscored JD in every quarter. Tanya Broom turned in a good performance for Acorns whilst Zoe Spiller once again starred for the Trees.

This result left Acorns two points clear at the top and the only team in the division with an unbeaten record. Scores: JD Tyres 16 Tip Top Trees Acorns 34, Tip Top Trees Oaks 30 Bampton 21.

HORNETS OFF TO WINNING START

Hockey Summer League

Honiton Hornets 2 Chard 1

The second year of the Honiton Summer League began last week with three seven-a-side games of 35 minutes being played.

In all six teams entered from as far away as Okehampton; and even from over the county border at Chard. The teams have been divided into two groups which will play matches over the next six weeks, culminating in the final to determine the overall winner of the League Cup.

A refreshment stall is also organised to help raise funds for the club, as well as to offer drinks and snacks to sustain players on a hot summer evening.

Honiton played the second game of the evening and scored two goals - Becky Bond scoring the first after 10 minutes with a fierce sweeping strike which resounded against the backboard; and then towards the end of the game, Sophie George made it 2-0 with an acutely angled hard shot from the right edge of the circle, which skimmed over the line near the left goal post.

Chard did pull one back with five minutes to go but Honiton weren't to be denied their win.

All in all, with the weather good and all teams enjoying their matches, a successful few weeks beckon.

SUCCESS FOR JANE

Lyme Regis golf

Club Ladies

with Ellie Langford

Jane Southcombe was successful at the Regional Medal Finals at Chippingham Golf Club last month when she was runner up with a score of nett 71, just one shot behind the winner.

There are six regions nationally with the top ten from each region qualifying to play in the Grand Final on Saturday 26th June at the Worcestershire Golf Club. The Lyme Regis Ladies wish her luck.

Playing conditions for the June Medal were very good but they were not reflected in the scores with only three players playing to their handicap or below.

Results: Division 1: 1 Jane Dixon 74; 2 Elizabeth

Linnert 76; 3Diane Smith 76 onb. Division 2: 1 Sheila Clare 72; 2 Jennifer Pollard 74; 3 Gloria Lott 75. Division 3: 1 Joy Madge 76; 2 Deirdre Potter 76 ocb; Flicity Horton 79 ocb. After a brilliant run in The Mail on Sunday competition, Lyme Regis lost away to Weymouth 3/2. The Parkin Cup bronze team had a good win at Cheddington Court 0/3 and the Beals Bronze team beat Bridport at home 4.5/3.5. Sophie Keech, playing for SW Schools at Tewsbury, came third in the individual event, only one shot behind the winner, with 154 nett after two rounds. Her next competition is the South West England Schools Championship on June 21st at Bedfordshire.
